New Legendary Lottery - Over the course of the next few days, we'll be developing a new legendary lottery system that will no longer scale with the jackpot, but instead award the winner automatically with an actual legendary chosen by TNO every 2 months.

Prep for HoT - As you all know the expansion will likely hit during the summer. By that time, we'll have some new systems in place. One of these systems includes our new premium membership requirements (10g and 2 week residency to apply). Perks will be added as we know more about guild changes for HoT. After we acknowledge how much influence we make weekly, we will be adding more 24/7 buffs.

HoT Release Date Contest - Last month we opened a contest which has now been closed regarding guessing when the release date is. We hope that arenanet will give us a definite deadline so that the winner(s) can be declared for this contest.

New Legendary Giveaway - A new legendary giveaway is currently being prepped for. We will schedule this to land with the next major release of the game (feature pack, SAB, etc). This will likely be april/may. Taking suggestions on the legendary that people would like to have. Submissions/details soon to come.

GW2Shinies In Development - A reminder that we now provide a trading post resource to all of TNO (and the public). Always looking for new ideas to help stir things up. Changes are made almost daily so if you like to make money, be sure to drop by.
